

Atomic Cloud 8

They look big and wide but appearances are deceiving. The Cloud 8 is a solid, stable carver with lots of “go anywhere” possibilities. This ski will produce some good Women skiers, with enough user friendly benefits to accommodate the Lady who wants a ski she can “grow into” while her skill level and confidence increases.

The 8 is so good, our Demo team testers were keeping this ski out LONGER and just having a ball. That says a lot. They’re FUN too. YA! Confidence is what the Cloud 8 builds, as they take you through anything the Mountain throws at you, or they can settle in to some very nice carved arcs on the perfect morning groomers.

They look big. They ski LIGHT, and the testers put them through everything they could find. The results came back “All Good” By the way.

Atomic Cloud 9

The “Game improvement” choice from Atomic. Women looking for a ski to help their technique will reap huge benefits from the Cloud 9. A forgiving platform to boost confidence, combined with stellar performance on ice and hardpack and just enough energy or “rebound” make the Cloud 9 “just right” for Ladies who want to ski more challenging terrain. This is one of the easiest skis to handle and turn initiation is smooth and secure, letting the skier choose the radius or turn shape.

“This ski makes me ski better. They go through everything and ski with a light feel that requires less effort so carving becomes second nature”

“The Cloud 9 helped me to ski like an expert, and I love that feeling, especially since I thought I was a solid intermediate.” The Cloud 9 is light, quick and fun.

Atomic D2 V7 75

New ideas that work. A 75mm waist (122 75 109) with a 12 meter radius, on a Double Deck ski! Think “power steering” with a huge “Sweet spot.” For pure carving and quick easy turns, the new DOUBLE deck 75 serves up beautiful rounded arcs with very little effort. Ladies skis have come to a higher place, and those looking to “turn it up a notch” will reap huge benefits, having more fun & feeling more secure edge grip on all snow conditions. “Don’t let the dimensions fool you. The “D2” is at home on a wide variety of runs and is not shy when it comes to inviting the skier to push the envelope a bit.”

“I love the way they respond immediately, and carve with a vengeance.” An obvious choice for Women craving a ski that will encourage them to turn it up a notch.
